

SARAH SALMOND

SPECIAL COUNSEL – HEAD OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE AT RUSSEL MCVEAGH

Sarah is a leading international trade lawyer in New Zealand and has 18 years' experience advising on a wide range of public, regulatory and commercial law matters.

She advises on all aspects of international trade law, including customs matters, export controls and sanctions, trade remedies, market access requirements, bilateral trade and investment relations, Brexit contingency planning and World Trade Organisation rules. She also advises on food and beverage industry regulation, sales and marketing law, and lobbying.