About Geutebrück

Geutebrück is an industry leading Video Security Surveillance Systems manufacturer, based in Germany. With employees for manufacturing, distribution, support and 20 subsidiaries worldwide, Geutebrück has been providing intelligent video security solutions to an impressive list of customers internationally for 50 years. For their North American operations, Geutebrück USA handles all sales, service, support, and distribution. Supporting a nationwide network of Certified Integrators, Geutebrück USA has regional offices staffed with a highly qualified sales and technical support staff.

Products & Services

Their cutting-edge systems support companies in two keyways: Their solutions ensure that your company is protected against the damage that could be caused by unauthorized activity and help you to optimize your internal processes. By means of comprehensive logistics process documentation, you can identify weak points and potential risks. Correcting these issues increases your process efficiency and reduces error costs.

Their video management solutions are tailor-made to suit the needs of their customers. They work with you to develop a concept that meets your unique requirements, customized to your specific site conditions, and support you during the installation and commissioning of your new video security system. Geutebrück also provide training for your employees on how to operate our systems. Whatever your needs are, they have a solution that help you to stop losses, increase profits and improve productivity. Geutebrück's "Made in Germany' symbol is more than a slogan. It stands for high-quality, speed, performance, and unequalled reliability.
